AUGUST 1-4 | MILWAUKEE

COME ON DOWN!

Dear Brothers and Esteemed Guests,

Welcome to the 2024 National Convention of Triangle Fraternity, held in the heart of downtown Milwaukee at the Hyatt Regency Hotel. It is both an honor and a privilege that I get the opportunity to welcome you to this incredible event as National President.

This National Convention will certainly be inspiring as we take another step forward as an organization. Perhaps most importantly, it will be a whole lot of fun. The Milwaukee Riverwalk area offers an energetic backdrop for our time together. I encourage you to explore everything the city has to offer, provided that your schedule this weekend allows. From museums to boat tours, the city has much to offer groups of friends, old and new alike.

We have put together a fun and interesting agenda for the weekend. I anticipate that you will find it full of engaging sessions, dynamic speakers, a bit of Fraternity business, and plenty of social engagements. It is also an opportunity for us to recognize a few of our notable alumni and hardworking members from chapters across the country.

I ask you to reflect on the theme for this National Convention, Come on Down, as I have done. On the surface, you may not find much meaning behind this theme or tagline. But you will find that there is much awaiting you below the surface.

To those who are members - We are members of the national fraternity called Triangle first and foremost. Your chapter affiliation represents many of the bonds that tie us to the organization most strongly; however, it does not singularly define our membership.

This National Convention provides an opportunity to reignite existing relationships across the broader national organization and form new ones. It allows us to contribute to each other's personal and professional development in a way that cannot be matched. It allows us to be Triangle, the version that we want to bring to every corner across the entire world. It is a coming home of sorts to those who have deep friendships from across the national organization through their active participation in it.

Thank you for taking time out of your busy lives to be a part of this event. Your participation, in this and other Triangle activities, is what allows us to become a better organization. It is what allows us to bring a Triangle experience that we all love and are proud of to as many men around the country as we possibly can. And it is what allows this weekend to be full of brotherhood, friendship, and love.

In F, S, C,

Ryan Sunyak tol10 | National President

The ORIGINAL BREW CITY

Milwaukee earned its nickname "Brew City" due to its rich history and deep roots in the brewing industry. In the mid-19th century, German immigrants brought their brewing traditions to the city, establishing iconic breweries like Pabst, Schlitz, Miller, and Blatz. These breweries thrived, leveraging Milwaukee's abundant natural resources, such as fresh water from Lake Michigan and vast supplies of barley from nearby farms. By the late 1800s, Milwaukee had become the largest beer-producing city in the world. The city's brewing heritage continues to flourish today with a vibrant craft beer scene and historical brewery tours, solidifying its reputation as the original Brew City.

Visit three of Milwaukee's four famous beer barons – Pabst, Schlitz and Blatz – at the Forest Home Cemetery. Nestled on 72 tranquil, park-like acres, Forest Home is where a "who's who" list of Milwaukee's famous dearly departed have chosen to spend eternity. The "Beer Barons" corner features the mausoleums of these three brewing icons. To make your tour complete, head to Milwaukee's Calvary Cemetery where you'll find the final resting place of Frederick Miller.

You can also take a guided tour of Milwaukee's beer history with local experts! Fun Beer Tours combines history with beer on the Beer Capitol of the World tour that shows you the "big 4" (Miller, Schlitz, Pabst and Blatz) plus a variety of related historic beer sites with plenty of brews along the way. Milwaukee Food Tours also offers a Craft Breweries & Cocktails bus tour, and Untapped Tours takes the curious to fantastic craft breweries in the eclectic Riverwest neighborhood.

THE EVOLUTION OF TRIANGLE'S NATIONAL CONVENTION

The first national convention was held in 1908, a year after the fraternity's founding. This inaugural gathering set the precedent for future conventions, focusing on establishing bylaws, chapter expansion, and creating a unified vision for the fraternity.

As Triangle grew, so did the scope of its conventions. The events evolved to include educational sessions, leadership training, and networking opportunities, reflecting the fraternity's commitment to the personal and professional growth of its members. Conventions in the mid-20th century saw increased participation and the introduction of new traditions and awards.

Today, Triangle Fraternity's national conventions are comprehensive events that blend business with brotherhood. Delegates from each chapter convene to elect national officers, discuss and vote on fraternity policies, and share best practices. These conventions also feature keynote speakers, alumni panels, and workshops on topics ranging from career development to chapter management.

Significant Milestones:

50th Anniversary Convention (1957):

A landmark event celebrating the fraternity's half-century of achievements, with a focus on reflecting on the past and planning for the future.

100th Anniversary Convention (2007):

A centennial celebration honoring Triangle's men of the Century and the Fraternity's legacy and impact on engineering, architecture, and science communities.
